Grievance Redressal Mechanism Details

The Institute has a Grievance Redressal Cell. Any student with grievances can approach the Cell for help and redressal. The Cell is headed by the Student Welfare Officer and has a panel of senior faculty members in the committee. The Cell also has suggestion/complaint box for addressing the common grievances and to receive suggestions. Moreover, Departmental Committees consisting of senior faculty have been constituted in all the departments for this purpose. These committees take all day-to-day decisions on specific and general issues and work an effective mean for the redressal of grievances of the students. The office of the Students Welfare remains in regular action to resolve their queries.

Anti Ragging Mechanism Details

The Institute has an anti-ragging committee that ensures that no such attempts take place in the campus. The anti-ragging committee has registered no ragging instances in the last four years. The University also believes that apart from preventing such instances to occur through a constitutional committee, the students also need to be inspired to live in a healthy and harmonious environment. To ensure this objective, the University conducts 'Unnayan', a welcome event for all the new students by the senior students. On this occasion, the senior students conduct a cultural programme to welcome the new students. The seniors also serve special meals embarking the beginning of a new relationship based on values, culture, and feeling of togetherness.
